Walker Hotel Tribeca

While an “affordable” New York City hotel can sometimes feel like a scam (if you can find one, that is), the recently opened Walker Hotel Tribeca combines a traveler-friendly nightly rate with location and comfort. Starting at $155 a night, the hotel is steps from the Canal St 6-train and minutes from Chinatown, Little Italy, and Tribeca. Downstairs, you’ll find a Blue Bottle Coffee outpost and a seating area that’s as Instagrammable as it is cozy. Your pourover coffee and cozy room (complete with C.O Bigelow bath amenities and crisp white linens) will keep you warm, even on the coldest New York day.
