ESCAPE FROM LA | WALKER HOTEL TRIBECA

BY SAYBIN ROBERSON

Located in New York City's historic Tribeca neighborhood is the new Walker Hotel Tribeca. Sitting on the south side of Lower Manhattan's Walker Street, the hotel grants views of Broadway, Walker and Cortlandt Alley with a 10-story, 171-room building. The interior, complete with distinct food and beverage venues, includes a ground floor communal lobby and lounge, cellar reading room, and Blue Bottle coffee shop. Coming soon will be the addition of a subterranean cocktail bar and a rooftop bar, as well as a full-service restaurant by an award-winning chef.

Walker Tribeca ties its historic roots with New York's vibrant energy; marrying the spirit of its timeless Golden Age through a mosaic of lasting quintessential design elements and modern furnishings. The lobby pays homage to both the neighborhood's legacy and progression while the luxurious and cozy rooms offer great attention to detail, each fitted with large loft-style windows to peer over the Midtown or downtown skylines.

Planted in Tribeca, the hotel is a walk away from exciting nightlife, high end shopping, scenic parks along the Hudson River and various galleries making the location a perfect one-stop vacation destination.
